Timothy J. Edmier consistently delivers real world practical advice to clients based on his extensive management and business experiences drawn from working in a family business and years of advising clients to find practical solutions to business issues. He represents business owners, entrepreneurs and professionals in a wide range of business and personal endeavors, including business planning, tax planning, tax controversies, estate planning and asset preservation.

Whether a matter involves entity formation, buy-sell agreements, business succession planning or tax and estate planning, Tim approaches every client engagement with steadfast focus on the client's goals and plans for the future. Tim takes those goals, analyzes the client's unique situation and circumstances, and crafts a solution to effectively satisfy the client's needs. His friendly demeanor, thoughtful approach and genuine care and concern for his clients, their businesses and personal goals, truly distinguish Tim from other attorneys.

Tim assists clients with their succession, tax and estate planning needs. He helps business owners fulfill their vision for the future by implementing strategies that preserve their desires and legacy. Tim also helps corporate and individual clients navigate complex tax controversies, Federal, State and local tax audits at all levels, as well as Department of Labor audits at Federal, State, and local levels.
